Organizations

Blackmagic Cloud allows you to create an Organization account, which helps consolidate storage, permissions, licensing, and billing in one interface. An organization is the best way to manage small or large enterprises with multiple users. You can control which members of your organization have access to which project libraries, group members together in specific roles or by project, and control your storage and DaVinci Resolve licenses.

Creating an Organization Account

Before you create an organization account, you need to create a personal account on the Blackmagic Cloud website. This user is the default owner of the organization, though you can add more owners and manage them later.

Once you have a personal account, sign in and click on the Organizations icon. You will be presented with a simple sign up window.

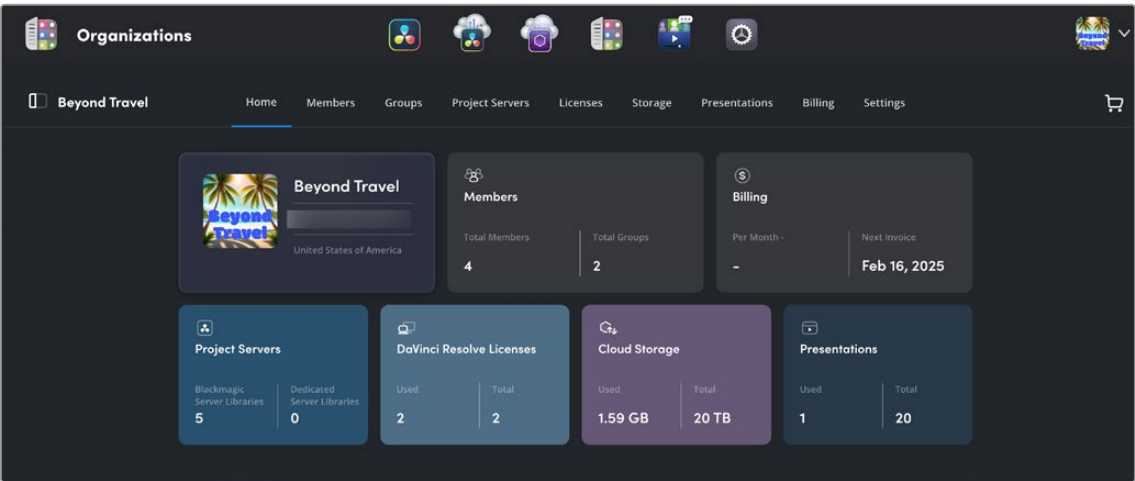

The screenshot shows a 'Create Organization' dialog box. At the top is a logo consisting of a grid of colored squares. Below the logo, the text 'Create Organization' is centered. Underneath, there are two labeled input fields. The first is 'Organization Name *' with a text input containing 'Beyond Tr'. The second is 'Country *' with a dropdown menu currently showing 'United States of America'. At the bottom of the dialog are two buttons: a 'Cancel' button and a blue 'Create' button.

The Create Organization window

In this window, you can type in your organization's name and the country you are resident in for billing purposes.

Home

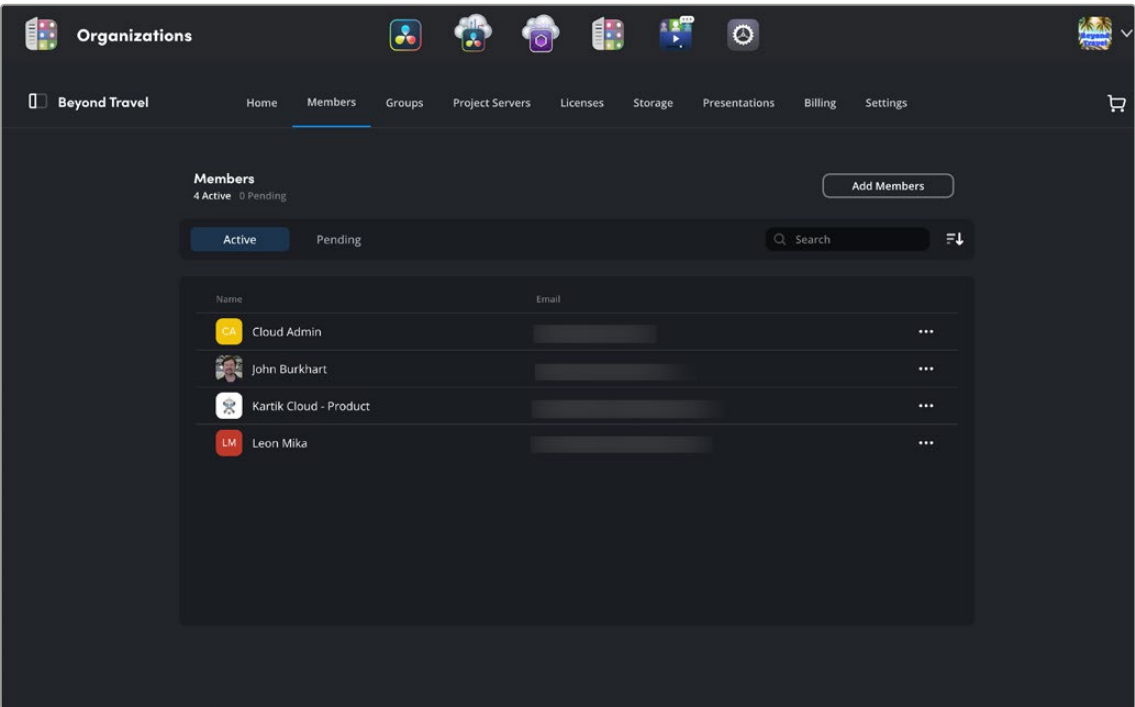

This tab presents a dashboard and overview of services purchased by your Organization; clicking on any pane will take you to that section of the website.

The Home tab will give you a simple dashboard showing your Organization’s current services.

Members

This tab will let you add or remove members for your organization. Members are sent invitations via email and are required to have or sign up for a Blackmagic Cloud account.

The Members tab lets you add and remove members from your organization.

The Members tab, by default, shows the Active members of a project. You can also click on Pending to see invited users that haven’t accepted yet, and resend that invitation to join, or rescind it all together.

To the right are the search and sort tools to let you easily find members in large organizations. Only members with Owner permissions can add or remove members from an organization.

To Add a Member to an Organization:

- 1 In the Members tab of the Organization, click on the Add Members button in the upper right.
- 2 In the Add Members dialog box, enter an email address, or multiple email addresses to invite several members at the same time.
- 3 When you've finished, click the Add Members button to send the invite emails to all users in the box.

To Remove a Member from an Organization:

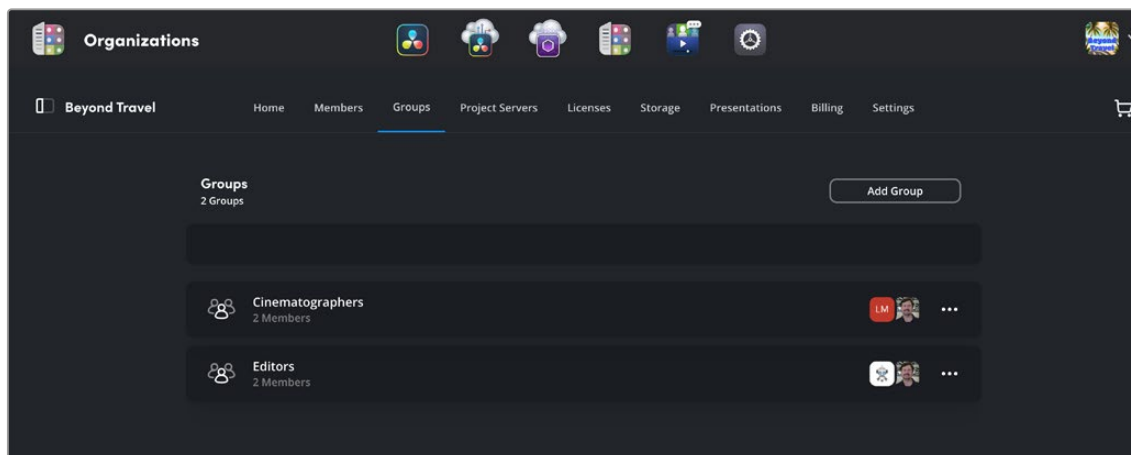

- 1 In the Active Members, click on the 3-dot option menu next to the user you wish to remove.
- 2 Select Remove Member from the option menu.
- 3 In the Remove Member warning that appears, click on the Remove button.

While you can send multiple member invitations at once, removing members currently requires you to do it one member at a time.

TIP: You can add individual members to existing groups using Add to Group in the option menu.

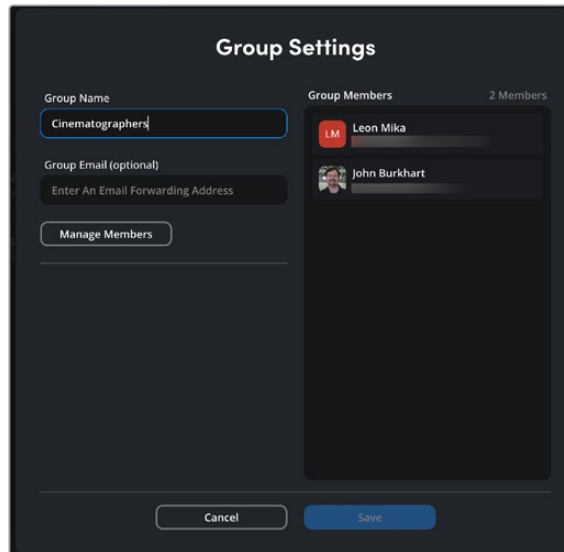

Groups

The Groups tab allows you to further organize your members, by combining them into specific roles, projects, or any criteria that works for your organization. This allows you to quickly assign all members in a group to a Project Library, or to activate any licenses of DaVinci Resolve Studio that your organization has purchased.

The Groups tab lets you organize members into user-defined groups.

The Groups tab, by default, shows the currently active Groups. For the example above, we have created an organization for a fictional travel show. We have created two groups, one called Cinematographers so that the members can automatically upload footage from the field into their assigned projects. The second we called editors, who not only need access to that footage but license keys for DaVinci Resolve Studio that the organization has purchased. Only members with Owner permissions can add or remove members from a group, and members can be assigned to multiple groups.

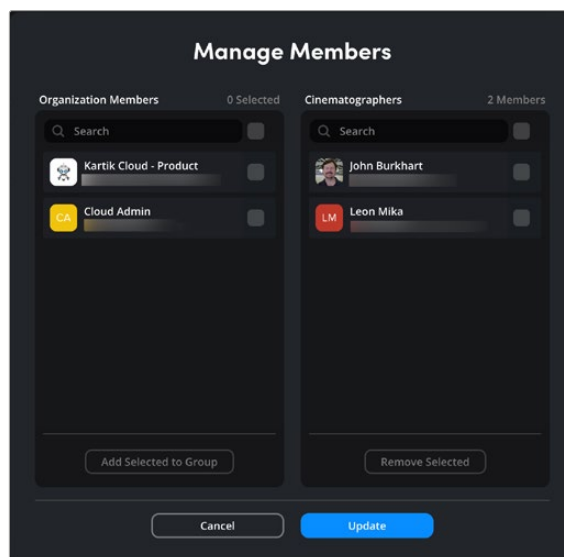

The Group Settings is where you create new groups.

To Create a New Group:

- 1 In the Groups tab, click on Add Group.
- 2 In the Group Settings dialog, enter a new group name.
- 3 Optionally you can add a Group Email for notifications if you enter an email forwarding address in the field.
- 4 Click Save.

To Delete a Group:

- 1 In the Groups tab, open the 3-dot option menu on an active group.
- 2 Select Delete Group from the option menu.
- 3 In the warning dialog, press the Delete button. This action is instant and cannot be undone.

In Manage Members, assigned group members are on the right, while all Organization members are on the left.

To Add a Member to a Group:

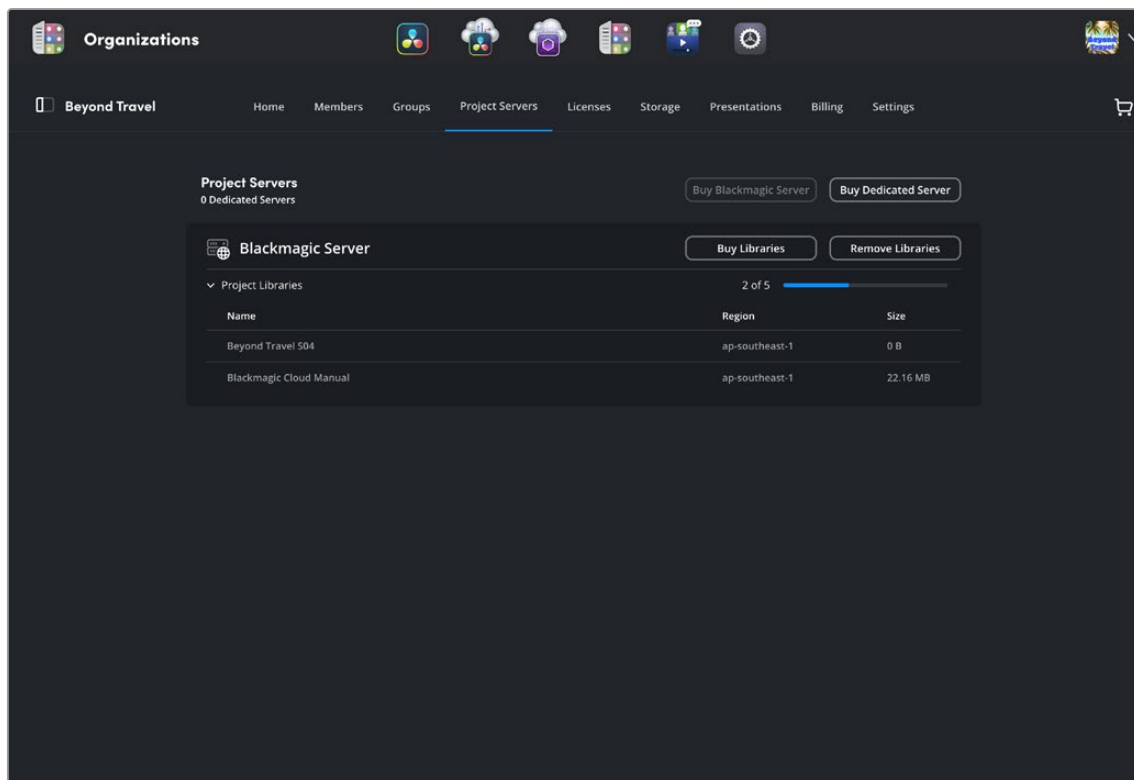

- 1 In the Groups tab, open the 3-dot option menu on an active group.
- 2 Select Group Settings from the option menu
- 3 In the Group Settings, select the Manage Members button.
- 4 In the Manage Members interface, select one or more members from the left column.
- 5 Press Add Selected to Group.
- 6 Press Update.

To Delete a Member from a Group:

- 1 In the Groups tab, open the 3-dot option menu on an active group.
- 2 Select Group Settings from the option menu
- 3 In the Group Settings, select the Manage Members button.
- 4 In the Manage Members interface, select one or more members from the right column.
- 5 Press Remove Selected.
- 6 Press Update.

Project Servers

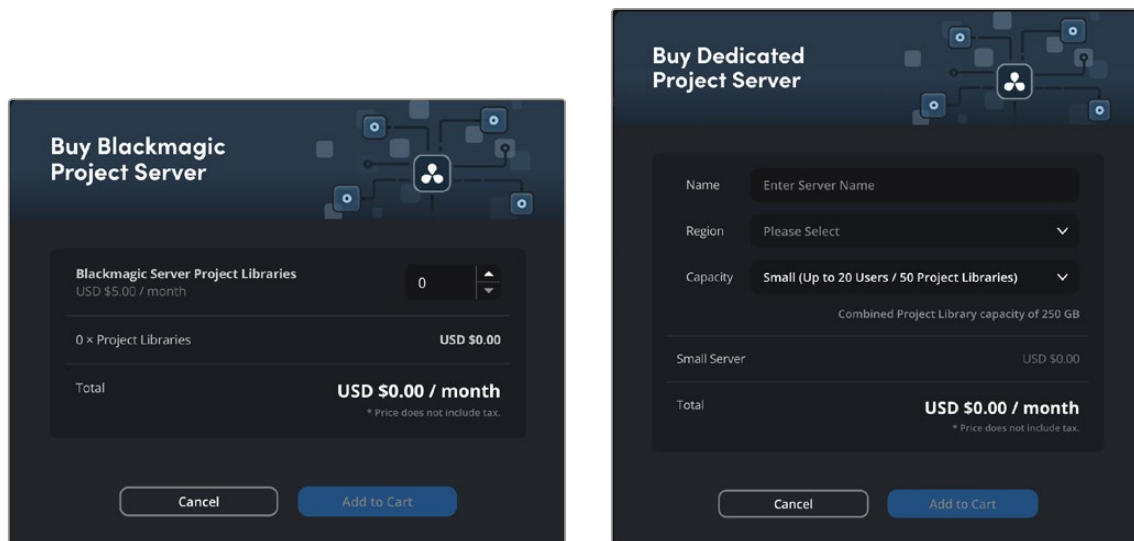

The Project Servers tab lets you see your current cloud project libraries, buy more, or delete unused libraries for your organization. As a reminder, each project library can hold multiple projects, so you don't necessarily need a new project library for each individual episode, video project, or film. Members and Groups, however, are assigned at the project library level, so they can see and modify all projects inside that library. So you may want separate project libraries for things like different clients, social media channels, or shows.

The Project Servers interface

Blackmagic Server vs. Dedicated Server

The first option you need to choose for your organization is whether to use a Blackmagic or Dedicated server to host your project libraries and media. The Blackmagic servers are administered by Blackmagic Design and, like most cloud services, are shared by multiple users and accounts at the same time. That does not mean that you can read or access other user's files, only that they are stored on the same machine. If for security, performance, or insurance reasons your Organization wishes to have its own dedicated server that is not shared with anyone else, you can select Buy Dedicated Server instead.

The Buy Blackmagic and Dedicated Project Server interface

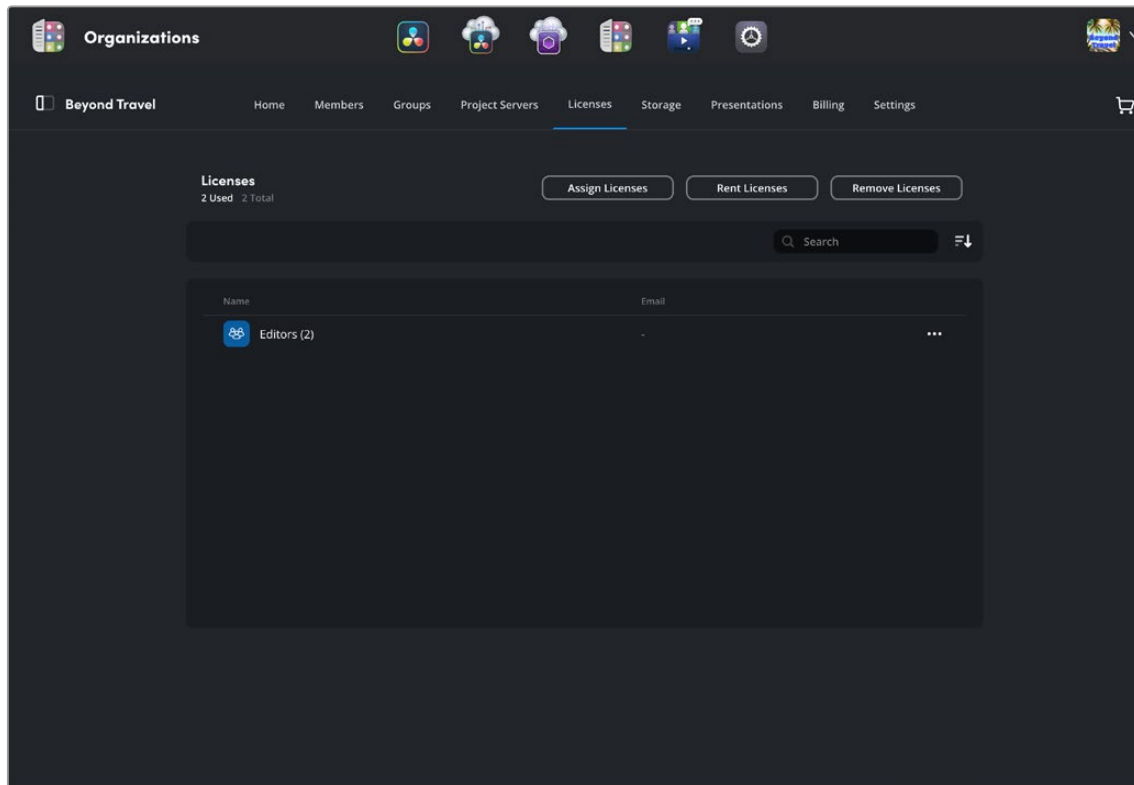

To purchase project libraries, click on the Buy Libraries button, and simply enter the number or dedicated plan you wish to use, then press Add to Cart. Then click on the cart to finish the purchase details.

To remove a project library, click on the Remove Libraries button. Then adjust the count lower to remove unused project libraries from your plan. Please note, you cannot reduce your project libraries below the amount that are currently active or in use; if you do, the message "Cannot reduce project libraries below amount currently active. Please disable or delete currently active project libraries and try again" will appear.

TIP: If you have reached your Project Library limit, consider "disabling" a Cloud Project Library in the Project Server section, rather than deleting it. Disabled Cloud Project Libraries do not count towards your Project Library Limit, are not deleted, and can always be "enabled" again when needed. You should consider the Project Library Limit as how many "active" libraries you need at the moment, not the total amount created.

Licenses

Organizations have the option to rent individual licenses of DaVinci Resolve Studio on a monthly basis. From this tab they can purchase, return, and manage those licenses as necessary. By default, the Licenses tab opens up to show who has licenses assigned to them and the total count of licenses you have.

To Rent Monthly Licenses of DaVinci Resolve Studio:

- 1 In the Licenses tab, click on Rent Licenses.
- 2 In the Rent Licenses window, select how many licenses you need.
- 3 Click on Add to Cart, then finish the checkout procedure.

To Assign Licenses of DaVinci Resolve Studio:

- 2 In the Assign Licenses window, type in the Member or Group name you want to assign licenses to.
- 3 Press Assign Licenses.

The member and number of licenses assigned will now show up in the main Licenses tab.

To Unassign Licenses of DaVinci Resolve Studio:

- 1 In the Licenses tab, click on the 3-dot option menu near the member or group you want to unassign.
- 2 Select Unassign Licenses.
- 3 In the warning box, press Remove.

Unassigned licenses will be returned to the license pool, available for use for other members and groups.

To Remove Monthly Licenses of DaVinci Resolve Studio:

- 1 In the Licenses tab, click on Remove Licenses.
- 2 In the Remove Licenses window, select how many excess licenses you no longer need.
- 3 Press Continue to update your billing.

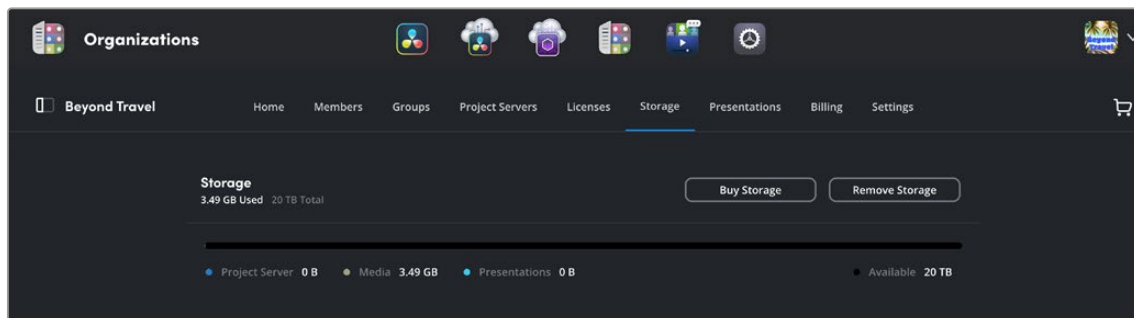

You can not remove more licenses than are assigned to members. If you want to reduce the amount of licenses further, you will have to unassign these licenses first.

To Activate a Monthly License of DaVinci Resolve Studio on a Workstation

- Open DaVinci Resolve Studio, and press the Use Blackmagic ID button.
- Sign into Blackmagic Cloud, using the member credentials that have a license assigned to them.
- Select the Organization that holds your license.
- DaVinci Resolve will tell you if an active license has been found.
- Press Continue.

Storage

The Storage tab presents a simple graph showing you how much storage you've used, how much you have free, and what type of data is being stored. You also have the option of buying more or reducing the storage that your Organization is using.

The Storage tab, showing the storage graph

To Buy More Storage:

- 1 In the Storage tab, select Buy Storage.
- 2 Adjust the Storage Size slider to add additional storage space to your organization.
- 3 Press Add to Cart, then go through the checkout procedure to complete the purchase.

To Remove Storage:

- 3 Press Continue.
- 4 The warning dialog will let you know that your excess storage will be removed immediately, and you will be charged the new plan total amount starting with the next billing date.
- 5 Press Confirm Changes.

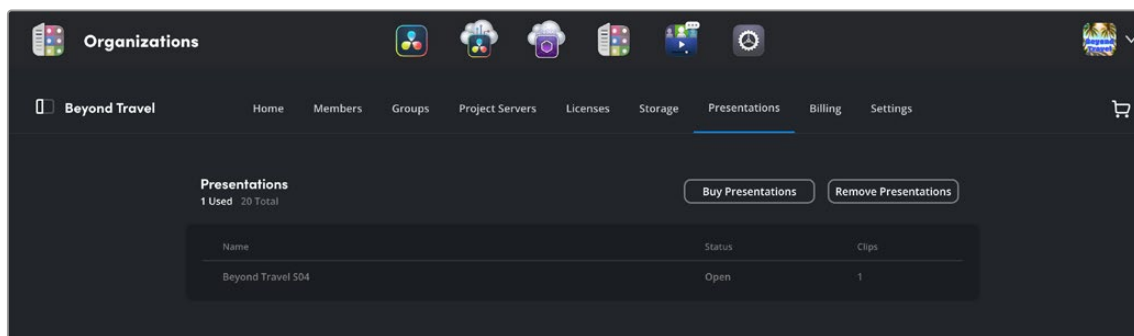

NOTE: Blackmagic Cloud Storage will never delete your media; only you have the authority to do that. If you try to reduce your storage under the amount you currently are using, it will automatically cancel the downgrade. You will have to manually remove enough media to fit within the new reduced storage amount and try the downgrade again.

What Happens to My Media if I Don't Pay?

Blackmagic Cloud Storage will never delete your media. If you don't pay the monthly fee and abandon the account, after 15 days past due and three emails, your account will be disabled, not deleted. You no longer will have access to that media but can reactivate your account by calling customer service to enable it.

Presentations

The Presentations tab lets you see how many presentations you are using, and buy more, or reduce the amount of presentations that your Organization has. The currently used presentations are shown in the layout, including their status and number of clips in them.

You can not reduce your Presentations below the amount currently in use. To delete further presentations from your organization, you will need to disable them first in the main Presentations section.

Billing

This tab controls your organization's billing details. You can change and update them here, as well as download previous invoices.

The screenshot shows the 'Billing' tab selected in the 'Beyond Travel' dashboard. The interface includes a top navigation bar with icons for various services and a sidebar with the 'Billing' tab highlighted. The main content area is divided into several sections: 'Billing Details' with fields for 'Billing Address' (123 Fake St., San Fransico CA 94103, US) and 'Billing Notifications'; 'Tax Information' showing 'No tax ID Added' with 'Remove' and 'Add' buttons; 'Payment Method' showing a 'Card Number * *4242' with an 'Update' button; and 'Invoices' which is a table listing two invoices.

Deleting an Organization is permanent and can not be recovered.
